A $100 enrollment confirmation fee (nonrefundable) is required of accepted students prior to registration. This fee is used as a tuition deposit.

Enrollment and Registration

Once a student's file is complete, the Admissions Office reviews her credentials and notifies the student of her status within one to four weeks.

Criminal Background Checks

Criminal background checks are completed for all programs which require an outside placement, such as, clinicals, practicums, field placement and specific internships. Programs include but are not limited to: education, nursing, social work, community psychology and school psychology. Applicants are required to disclose any felony convictions, misdemeanor or current pending charges. Failure to disclose this information may result in dismissal. See specific programs for details.

Prior Learning Assessment

Through Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) processes, Alverno works with students to recognize the learning that they have already accomplished through a variety of life, work, and educational experiences. Students may earn college credits toward their degree by demonstrating how their learning experiences meet the requirements of a major or support area.

If a student decides to pursue PLA, the student and a faculty member work within the guidelines and policies developed by each discipline as they collaborate to determine the number of credits and assessment process that reflect the student's experience and the expected learning outcomes. Policies set by the academic departments are designed to ensure that the student develops the depth and breadth of the arts and humanities along with the depth and breadth of the major and support areas that are expected of a quality baccalaureate program. If a student would like her work to be considered for PLA, she should contact an admissions counselor at 414-382-6100 or at 1-800-933-3401. An administrative fee is charged for PLA.

If a student has taken college-level coursework in other accredited institutions, Alverno also offers a preliminary transfer evaluation, free of charge. The college encourages prospective students to submit accredited college transcripts for a preliminary transfer evaluation. Courses that transfer do not need to be assessed for credit for prior learning.

To determine if you may be eligible for college credit in Alverno's Prior Learning Assessment program, ask yourself if you have:

- Used theory to understand life and/or professional experiences;
- Completed noncredit classroom experiences (e.g., courses, seminars, workshops, training, continuing education programs);
- Participated in paid or volunteer experiences related to an academic discipline;
- Created or developed a product, publication, artistic work, innovation, or program.

Communication Placement Assessment

Entering students may be requested to participate in the Communication Placement Assessment (CPA) as part of the admissions process. This half-day series of assessments provides us — and the student — with a detailed picture of her abilities in several areas crucial to college learning.
