

GLOBAL STUDIES & INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (GLS) MAJOR

or HUM-358	Middle Eastern Civilization
SOC-437	Fundraising & Grant Writing: Principles & Practice	3
INTERN-383	Internship Seminar	2
Total Credits		47-51

What you will study

The program starts with an introductory course in global studies, in which the basic concepts and issues of global culture, international economics, and world politics are covered. After the introductory course, you begin taking courses from the various disciplines that are part of the global studies program: economics, geography, history, and political science. You then bring together the perspectives, concepts, and issues from these various courses in the Global Studies Senior Seminar, taken during your final year.

Global Studies is a major designed to have you learn about the world and research and language skills are an important part of this. We've created 3 paths through the major. It is your choice which you follow. Path 1 requires 4 semesters of a world language. Heritage speakers, students with AP or IB credits, and students who take language proficiency assessments may be eligible to meet this requirement. Path 2 combines 2 language and 2 research classes: BSC 255 (Research Methods) & BSC 256 (Statistics). Path 3 is all research: BSC 255 (Research Methods), BSC 256 (Statistics), MT 268 (Introduction to Programming in Python) and MT 368 (Think Like a Data Scientist). With this path, you can earn a specialization in Data Science.

Requirements

Code	Title	Credits
Core Requirements
GLS-200	Introduction to Global Studies	3
GLS-330	United Nations & the World	4
GLS-370	World Geography: People, Places & Change	3
GLS-399	Formal Introduction to Advanced Work	0
GLS-410	Comparative Politics	4
GLS-475	Global Studies Senior Seminar	2
GLS Elective	Global Studies (GLS) Elective	3
MGT-210	Macroeconomics	3
POL-225	American Politics	4
PATHWAY	Choose from one of the following:	12-16
Pathway Options
	Language Pathway: 4 semesters of Foreign Language
	Lang/Research Pathway: 2 semesters of Foreign Language and 2 semesters Research (BSC-255 and BSC-256)
	Research Pathway: 4 semesters Research (BSC-255, BSC-256, MT-268 and MT-368)
Additional Requirements
HUM-351	Chinese Civilization & Cultures	4
or HUM-352	South Asia Civilization
or HUM-353	Latin American Civilizations
or HUM-355	Japan: Studies in Civilizations and Culture
or HUM-356	Latin American Civilizations-In Spanish	